

DENEEN SPEECH RAISES CHOLER OF ROOSEVELT

Bull Moose Candidate Denounces Governor of Illinois and Puts Him in Ananias Club.

MAKES ATTACK ON
WOODROW WILSON

New Jersey Executive Is Accused of Not Enforcing the Law Against the Trusts in His Home State.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—A copy of Governor Deneen's recent speech in Springfield was given to Colonel Roosevelt on his arrival in Chicago.

"I have not hitherto assailed Mr. Deneen," he said. "Mr. Deneen has now seen fit to assail me by deliberate and willful perversion of the truth."

"Mr. Deneen says I asked him to limit his resolution concerning the contents to thirty-four of them. This is a falsehood. I had no private dealings with Mr. Deneen during the Chicago convention. During that convention I became convinced of his shuffling and double-dealing. I grew to feel a very hearty contempt for him and entirely to mistrust his sincerity and loyalty to the people's cause."

"All the conversations about the contesting delegates were held literally with scores of leaders."

Gives Deneen the Lie.

"Mr. Deneen when he utters falsehoods should cultivate his memory. He continues by saying that had all of these thirty-four contests been decided in favor of me, I would still have been in the minority. Mr. Taft was nominated by twenty-one majority and the change of thirty-four votes therefore would have put him some forty odd in the minority. Mr. Root was elected permanent chairman by fifty-five votes over Mr. McGovern. He would have been defeated for permanent chairman by a change of thirty-four votes from his column to that of Mr. McGovern."

"My attention, by the way, has been called to testimony by Mr. Deneen before the senate investigating committee of which I was ignorant and which conclusively shows that Governor Deneen was a friend and ally of Lorimer, that he suggested to Lorimer that Lorimer elect himself to the senate and that he formed a defensive alliance with Lorimer in the city of Chicago."

Unfit for Governor.

"I wish to call the attention of the people of Illinois to the fact that Governor Deneen has made admissions about his actions with Lorimer which show that he is unfit to occupy any position of trust in the government."

"Our opponents in this campaign trust for success exclusively on violating two commandments—Thou shalt not steal, and the commandment, Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

"The man who to get an office will bear false witness against his neighbor cannot be trusted to keep the other commandment while in office. Mr. Deneen is seeking office by bearing false witness against his neighbor."

Attacks Wilson.

Col. Roosevelt in an address at the Coliseum tonight attacked Woodrow Wilson's record in the New Jersey governor's chair on the trust question and declared that if the Democrats were successful in November the great trusts of the country would find Gov. Wilson a most delightful and harmless companion."

Col. Roosevelt further insisted that New Jersey was, above any other commonwealth, the "trust state" of the country, and while it had laws which could be used with great effect against the trusts, Gov. Wilson had pursued a "do-nothing" policy in this regard.

While sketching his own record on the trusts while President, Col. Roosevelt said:

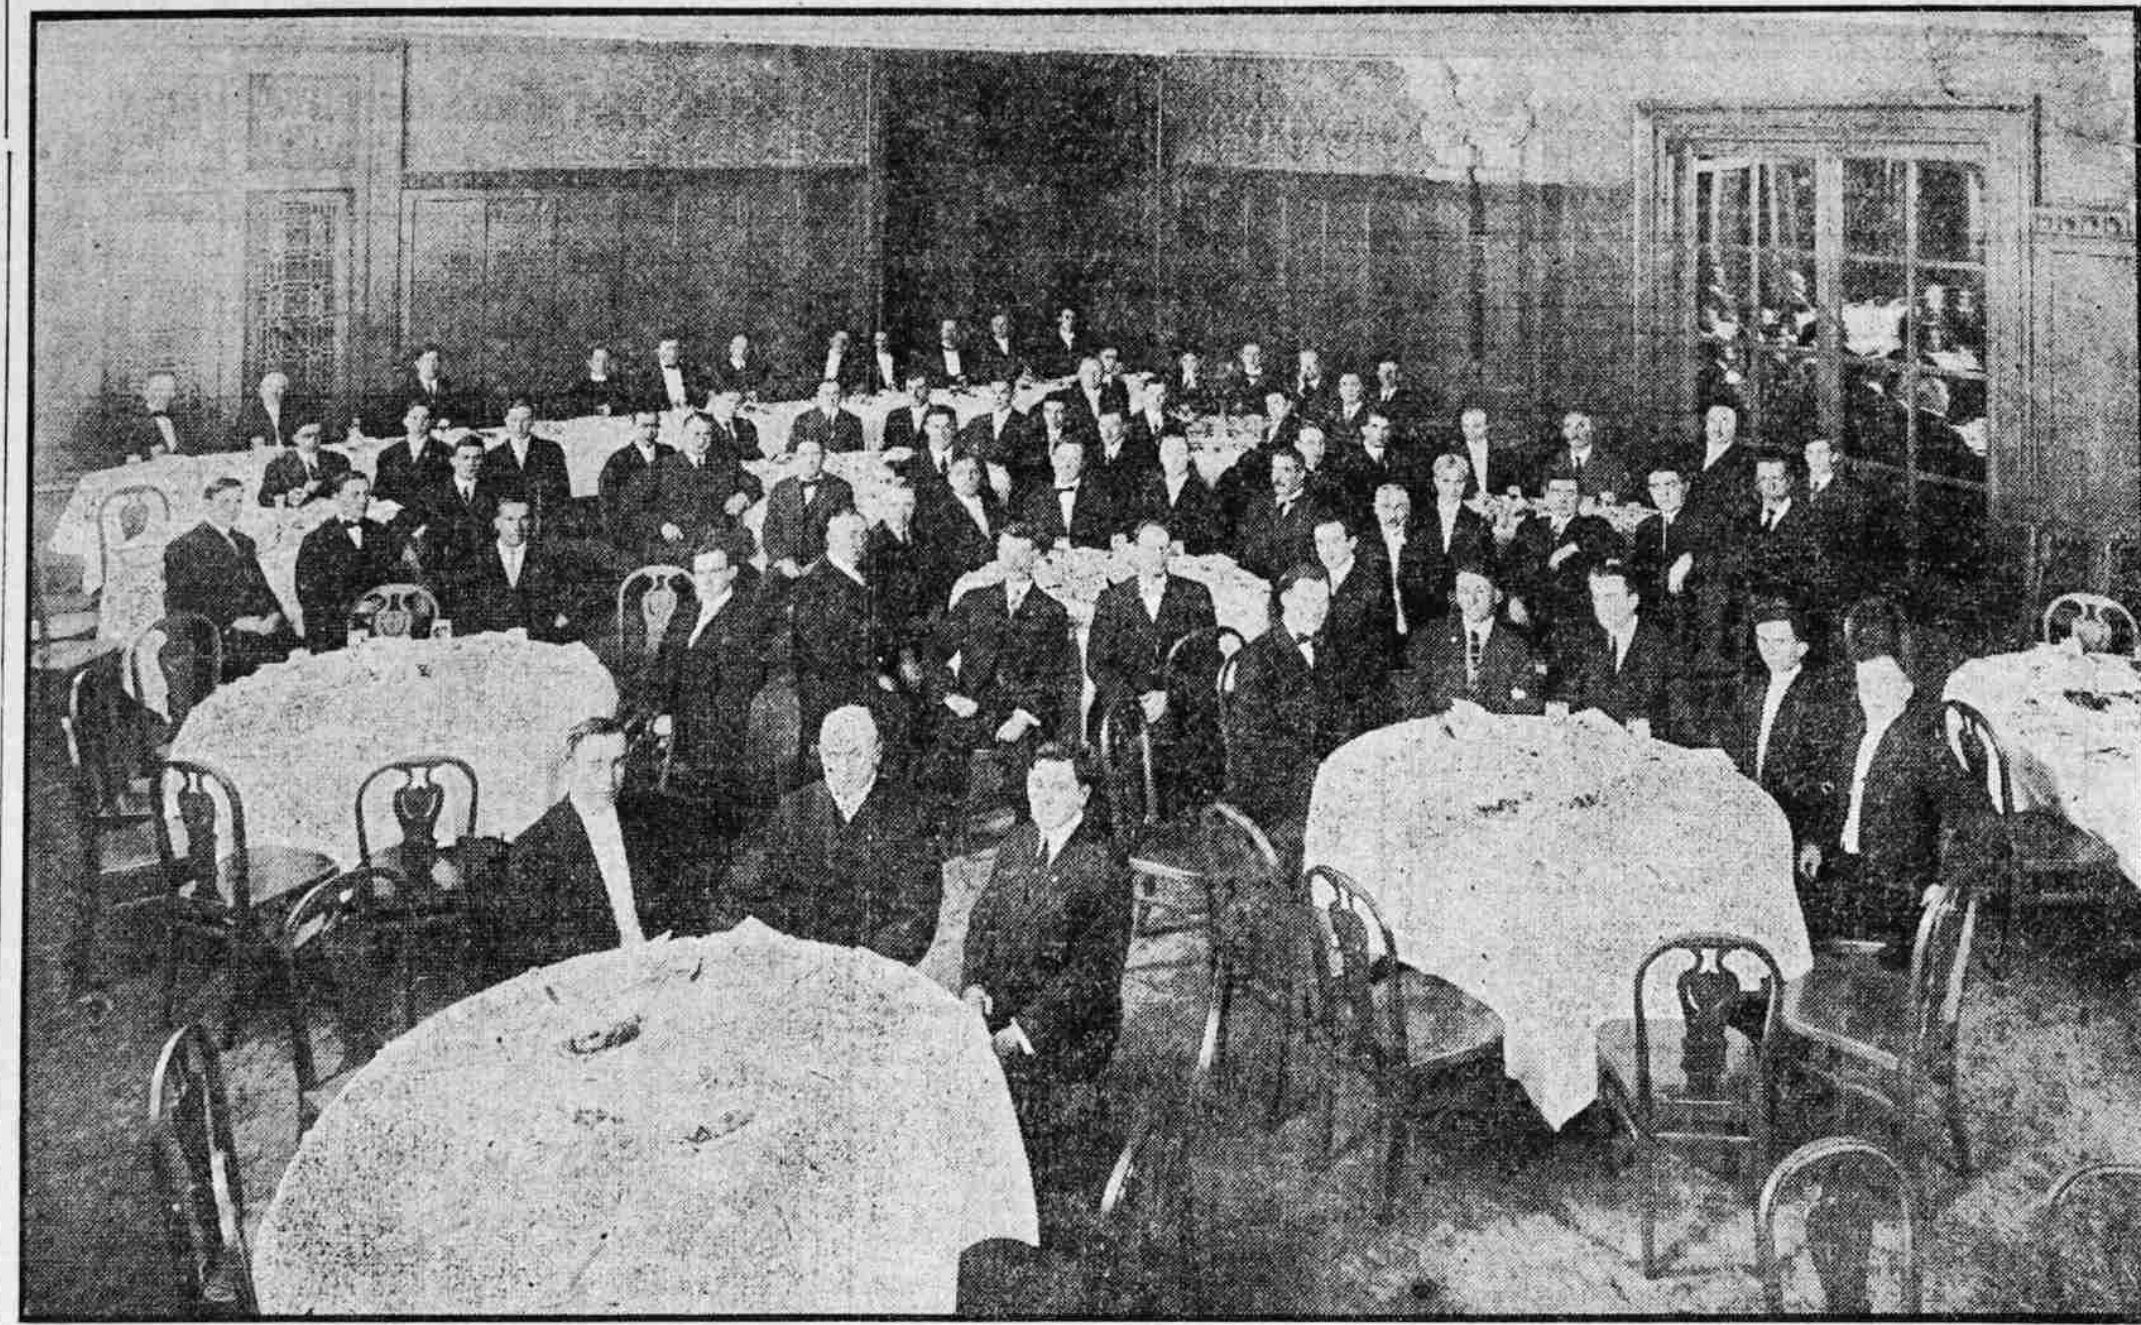

"I made such an impression by my repeated messages and addresses that the Republican platform in 1908 did definitely promise action along the lines I had indicated, although the promise was broken by those in charge of the Republican party as soon as I left the presidency."

Says Wilson Failed.

"Mr. Wilson, during his term as governor of New Jersey, has not done one least little thing of any shape, sort or description toward dealing with the trusts problem."

"Yet the opportunity has been ample. And if his own doctrines as to the duty of the states to deal with the trusts are correct, then his failure to all be realized. He called Salt Lake "the greatest convention city in the country" and predicted that the national convention of the order might soon be held in this city.

"Patriotism" was responded to by J. F. Tobin. He dwelt on the kinds of patriotism mentioned the connection between patriotism and optimism.

Progress in the Air.

"Conditions are becoming better," he said. "Sometimes we are apt to feel that they are growing worse. But the fact that the people are studying civic and economic questions and demanding changes along these lines, is a hopeful sign. It is an indication that governmental affairs and all the problems of the people at large, will receive more intelligent attention in the future, to the ultimate improvement of living conditions in general."

Frank P. Gallagher responded to a toast to "Columbus." While Columbus was a prominent factor in all of the speeches, Mr. Gallagher gave some interesting bits of history of the world's progress, from East to West, and paid fitting tribute to the importance of Columbus' discovery. He dwelt on the movements of history tending toward the ultimate unification of the human race. In this age, he said, the work of scientists and inventors, is playing an important part in that unification.

On Verge of Uplift.

"The age of discovery has just begun," he said. "Now we must turn from the discovery of lands and planets; we must turn from the telescope to the microscope, as it were. We must look inward. The mystery of the universe is as much involved in the atom as in the planet, and when we have solved the atom we shall have solved the planet. And the unfolding of the atoms, the bacilli and their laws will do much toward the progress of the race. The work of scientists and econ-

Tribune Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Salt Lake City citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. M. C. Dale, 437 W. Eighth South St., Salt Lake City, Utah, says:

"For over a year I suffered from a dull ache across the small of my back and through my kidneys. A cold or overexertion always made my trouble worse, and I was often laid up in bed for a week at a time. I was also greatly annoyed by the kidney secretions. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I procured a box at Schramm-Johnson's drug store, and they soon cured me. I gladly reindorse Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure they effected some years ago has been permanent."

BLACKFOOT DEFEATS GATE CITY SCHOOL

Special to The Tribune.
BLACKFOOT, Idaho, Oct. 12.—The high school football eleven of Pocatello was defeated here by the Blackfoot team this afternoon by a score of 52 to 0. This was the first game of the season for each team and a large crowd was in attendance, the day being ideal. The teams were about evenly matched in weight, but the work of the home team was far superior to that of the visitors. The home stars broke through the Pocatello defense at will, and touchdowns were common. Stars were the star of the home team although all of the boys are heroes tonight. Great credit is given Coach Crutcher for his success with the team so early in the season, and the Blackfoot rooters are predicting an Idaho championship.

Whiskey Awful Cheap

Large Independent Distiller Forced to Sell an Immense Quantity in a Great War Against the Giant Whiskey Trust.

M. Calman, owner of one of the greatest distilleries in America, will sell about 100,000 barrels of rare old whiskey this morning to put him out of business and to protect himself he is forced to sell every gallon he has on hand direct to the consumer at a profit of 10c a gallon.

He says his enormous distillery working full time have produced a vast quantity of high-grade, high proof whiskey. It costs him $1.37 per gallon, including all government taxes and incidental expenses, and this is the whiskey he will sell to the consumer for only $1.67 per gallon.

He says he would rather sell to good, clean, honest Americans a pure, high-grade whiskey at a profit of 10c a gallon than to barter with this thousand-fanged octopus who is driving him to wreck and ruin.

From his western office at 1135 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., he is mailing thousands of little pamphlets, telling the inside history of this great war. It's an intensely fascinating story and every free-thinking man should send for one of these free pamphlets. If any man ever waged an honest war that man is Mr. Calman. He certainly deserves the loyal support of every liberal minded American.

USE THE CHURCHES TO STABLE HORSES

Mexican Federals in Mormon Colonies No Better Than the Rebels.

Special to The Tribune.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 12.—Relieved of the presidency of the Mexican state, Junius Romney, who has been the Mormon leader in their hour of darkness, will continue as their leader until he has seen every refugee safely cared for the winter, when he will relinquish his official position and duties and will devote his attention to other church activities. The relief of President Romney is taken here to mean that the church will make no further effort toward the colonization of Mexican lands, at least not until the church officials have been fully satisfied that their people can be given all the guarantees that they enjoy in the United States, a thing yet a dream of the future.

Cattle are being shipped out of both Chihuahua and Sonora colonies by the railroad. As soon as the horses which have been corralled at Hachita, N. M., are disposed of the duties of Business Agent O. H. Brown will be at an end and the two councilors, H. S. Harris and C. E. McClellan, will also cease to be in authority.

Conditions have grown gradually worse and worse until it is no longer safe among the once friendly Mexicans for the Mormons. The rebels, tired to the most inhuman cruelties, have been practicing unbelievable crimes on their prisoners and the federals are no better. The latter have stabled their horses in the Mormon churches in Sonora and Chihuahua and have made little or no effort to protect property rights.

Appeal for Protection.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 12.—Reports that rebels are badly smuggling ammunition into Mexico, the Mexican town opposite the international bridge spanning the Rio Grande by Mexican soldiers.

While the officials of the road make light of the rebel threat to kill all American operating trains after October 15, eighteen of the railroad men, testifying before the senate committee here, took the warning seriously. It is learned that a body of the rebels, who appeared before the committee and appealed for protection, which they said was not given by Mexican federal troops.

Twenty Federals Killed.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12.—Twenty federal soldiers and citizens were killed by Zapatista rebels in an attack on Valle de Mexico, near Toluca, in the state of Mexico, several days ago. Upon the arrival of General Felipe Angeles with reinforcements of federal troops the rebels fled, carrying their dead and wounded.

CONVICTS GET AWAY THROUGH BROKEN FENCE

Nineteen Desperate Men, Led by Notorious Jim Dalton, Fool Guard and Escape From Wyoming Pen.

NINE RECAPTURED
AFTER SHORT CHASE

During Excitement Twentieth Prisoner Walks Out; Citizens of Rawlins Panic-Stricken.

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 12.—Ten of the nineteen convicts who, by the notorious Jim Dalton, member of the Whitney gang of bank robbers, escaped through broken fence in the penitentiary this afternoon, were still at large 8 o'clock tonight and the possibility of their recapture was remote, as they are believed to have gained hills north of the town before night fall.

Scattered shots echoing faintly through the darkness indicated to some of the searching party that they had come upon the fugitives or infected with the panic that reigned the homes of Rawlins tonight.

The town is being patrolled by armed citizens and men and women sit at hand listening for intruders. For the fugitives are known to be the most desperate of the penitentiary inmates, led by the desperado Dalton, reported at first as recaptured, and take a long chance to secure weapons and clothes.

Reign of Terror.

The reign of terror which holds town tonight began at 3 o'clock when from the penitentiary burst a band of shouts of convicts and through streets of the northern part of town nineteen close-cropped, hard-tanned men in the prison uniform in a body.

Horses tethered in front of saloons were grabbed by the leaders and taken at breakneck speed through town and away to the hills, outtanding the guards that closed in the rear of the fugitives after precious minutes investigating the escape of the uproar in the cells.

Capture Wagon.

Meanwhile four of the convicts, taking a grocery wagon and compelling the boy driver to race for the hills, when the horse gave out they looted themselves with its provisions and four of the fugitives hiding in a canyon north of Rawlins were caught an hour after the outbreak; a was captured making for the railroad tracks. Three were cornered in another canyon a mile west of the town by mounted pursuers, but have not been taken.

Guards returning with the prisoners were greeted by the convicts with an uproar of groans and it then discovered that in the excitement of the pursuit another prisoner had escaped, making twenty in all. Shortly before 7 o'clock tonight, fugitives were discovered hiding in a barn within a block of the penitentiary. Two were captured by guards, but got away from the officers, who fear to be fired because of a crowd in the vicinity.

Nine Caught All Told.

This made a total of seven recaptured. A little later Warden Allen arrived at the penitentiary with men he had taken single-handed. He raised the number to nine recaptured of the nineteen in the original escape.

A searching party of citizens organized at 8 o'clock to make a house-to-house search of every house in north end of the town in the hope of finding more of the men and to ensure the terror-stricken citizens. It is believed that the ten convicts left of the original nineteen and one who engineered his own escape in the hills back of the town surrounded by a posse and will not be captured before morning.

Break in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12.—Four of the most desperate convicts in the Ohio penitentiary made a daring escape today saving through the bars of a sewer hole behind the prison hospital, dropping into the underground tunnel and winning their way to the outlet of the sewer on the banks of the Scioto river.
